

THE PLANET MARK: DP WORLD LONDON GATEWAY Certified 4 Years

DP WORLD LONDON GATEWAY

- Situated on the north bank of the River Thames, DP World London Gateway is the UK's most integrated logistics hub, comprising a reliable and efficient deep-sea port and adjacent logistics park.
- DP World London Gateway was designed to offer shippers a highly flexible opportunity to consolidate and sort products for onward distribution at its logistics park just a few hundred yards from the quay side, significantly reducing the number of trucks on the road and lowering carbon emissions.

THE PLANET MARK

- In 2016, DP World became the first port in the world to achieve certification to The Planet Mark for demonstrating its commitment to carbon emissions reduction.
- The port was able to showcase the systems it already has in place to reduce and monitor its carbon emissions, which included automated stacking cranes, LED lighting throughout the port and operations buildings and zero waste to landfill.

“I am proud of our latest accreditations and award with The Planet Mark. It proves we can offer our customers the assurance that by partnering with us their supply chains are more sustainable.”

Ernst Schulze, UK Chief Executive Officer, DP World

LATEST RESULTS

- 24.9% Reduction in carbon emissions per ‘Twenty-foot equivalent ‘container
- Building & infrastructure emissions decreased by 20%
- Winner of the Carbon Reduction per Employee Award and Supply Chain Engagement Award at The Planet Mark Awards Ceremony, 2019.

NEW DEVELOPMENT CERTIFICATION

- 19.8% Reduction in carbon emissions at DP World London Gateway Plot 1080
- 20.6% Reduction in embodied carbon
- 17.8% Reduction in operational carbon
- Engaged a local primary school, measuring the school's carbon footprint, and engaging staff, students and parents in environmental sustainability in fun and interactive ways.

The Planet Mark provide a high level of expert service that makes the certification process straightforward for both construction and operations. Their enthusiasm is contagious and their ideas and support helps drive success up and down our supply chain. As a result, many of our customers are now certified too.

Emma Cowper, Sustainability Manager, DP World